- What do they suggest about your leadership approach?

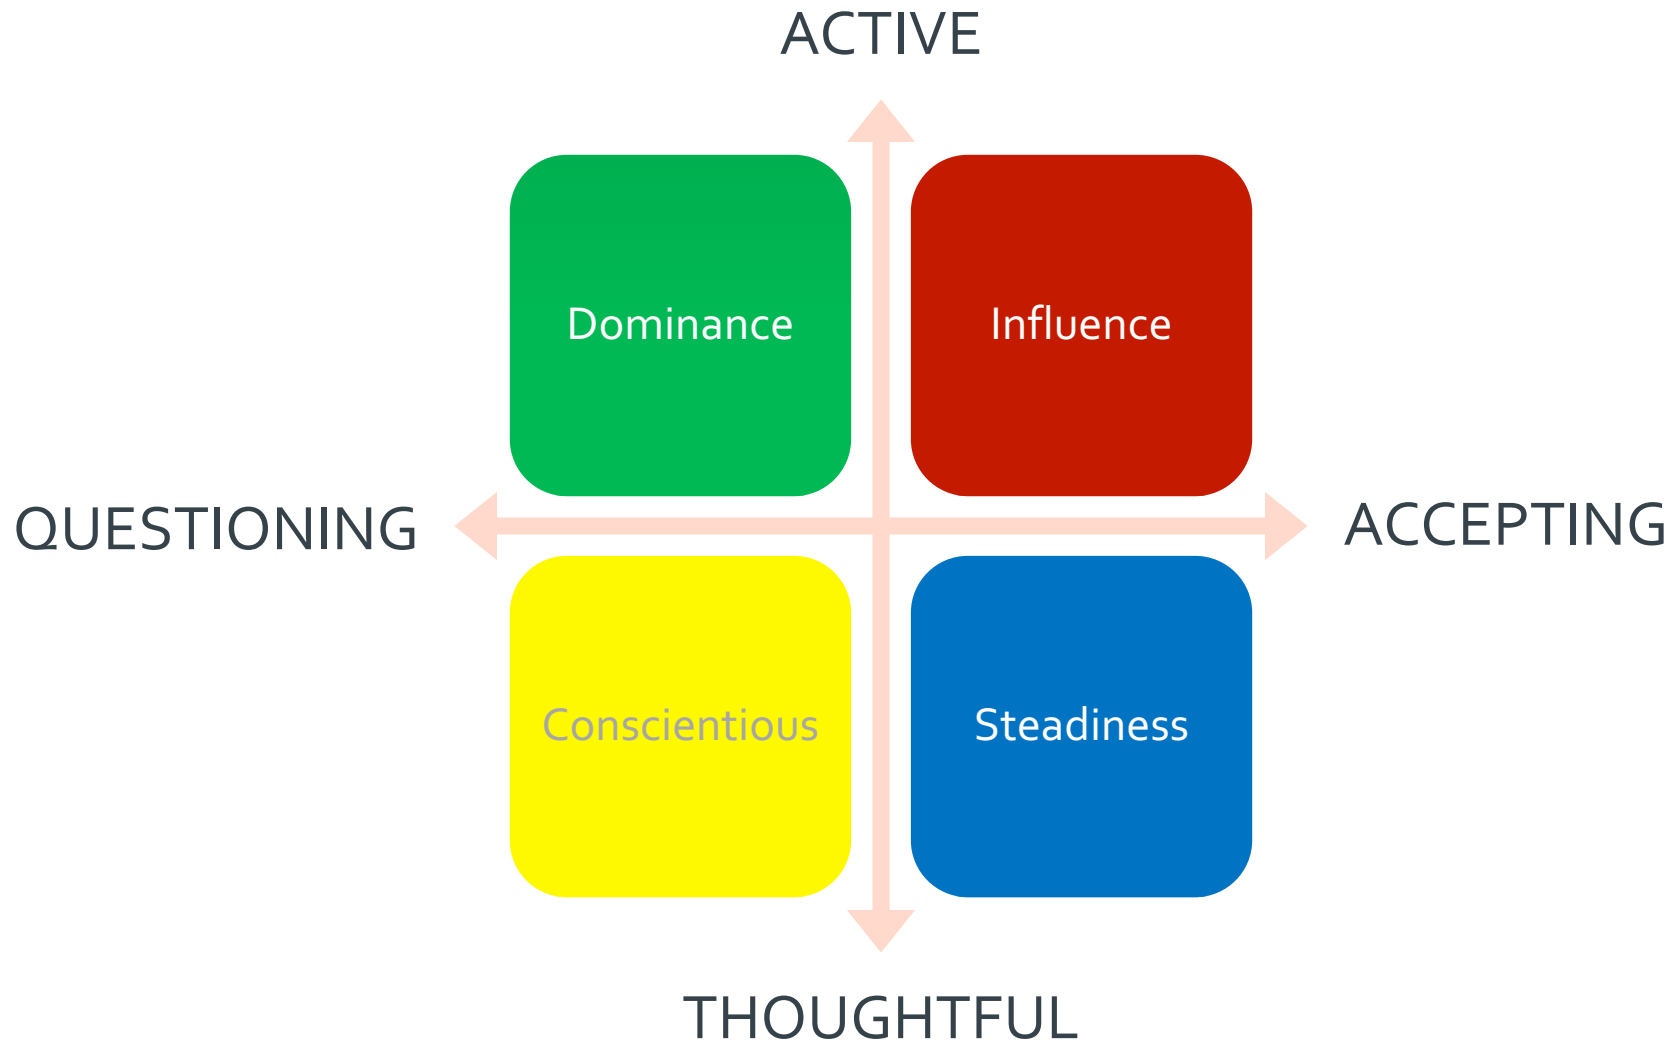

Which do you prefer?

Different styles, different orientations.

Traditional DiSC® Model: Perceptions

Traditional DiSC® Model: Perceptions

Traditional DiSC® Model: Perceptions

- No good, bad, best or worst styles
 - All styles have strengths and limitations
 - Adapt your style to meet the needs of others
 - We are all a mixture of styles ...
Be cautious in judging

Agenda

- ① Who are we? ✓
- ② Program expectations ✓
- ③ Guidelines for our work together ✓
- ④ Leadership: What is it? ✓
- ⑤ Leadership: Your Style ✓
- ⑥ Leadership: Your Vision

Step 1 : My Leadership Vision

Imagine achieving a result in your career that you deeply desire...

What kind of leader are you?

Adapted from the 5th Discipline

Aspects of my leadership vision

1

How do people think of me? (use your feedback)

2

How do I think of myself?

3

Who do I admire and why?

4

What do I value?

5

What do I excel in?

6

What does it look like on a daily basis?

7

How do I feel when I am this person?

Step 2 : Exploring Potential Resistance

I can't have what I want.	At this stage, we are envisioning and your doubts, worries, fears or concerns are irrelevant.
I want what someone else wants.	Is your vision really yours? Or is it something you think someone else wants for you? You are worthy of having your own vision. Only include the elements that you truly want for yourself .
I already know what I want.	Your personal vision is not a done deal. Adapt, refine, strengthen, fill in the blanks. Your vision is recreated throughout your life.
I am afraid of what I want.	Your vision can't run with you, it only increases your awareness. If some parts frighten you or make you feel uneasy, just 'be' with it, it might be a potential clue for your learning process.
I don't know what I want.	Suppose you had a vision of 'greatness'. What would it be? 'A vision is an expression of hope.' Peter Block, 1991
I know what I want but I can't have it at work.	This is a question of current reality and as such worth testing. We will work with this across the year. At this point, park the current reality and barriers. We'll focus on them later.

Adapted from the 5th Discipline

Explore your resistance

- Feel the resistance and allow it to be
- Be curious and explore...
 - What's at the core of the resistance.
 - Where is it the coming from?
 - Who told you this is true?
 - What's the fear behind it?
- Reframe the resistance

Step 3 : My leadership vision in words

Area	Question
Self Image	If you could be exactly the type of leader you wanted, what would your qualities be? (you might consider the role model you thought about in preparation for this session)
Tangibles and success	How do you define career success?
Work Environment	What is your ideal work environment?
Relationships	What types of relationships would you like to have with your co-workers, manager, peers, clients, and others?
Work	What is your ideal professional situation? What impact would you like your efforts to have?
Creativity	How creative would you like to be at work? What might that look like?
Space to think	How much time would you have to think and reflect? How would you use this time?
Personal pursuits	How much time would you like to have to do things you enjoy doing outside of work? What would you like to create in this arena?
Life purpose	Imagine your life has a unique purpose, fulfilled through what you do, your interrelationships and the way you live. Describe that purpose as another reflection of your aspirations.
What other aspects do you consider important?

Step 4 : Establishing the gap

- Take a look at your leadership vision
- What are the gaps?
- What are the two most relevant and important areas you need to work on to have the career and become the leader you aspire to be?

Step 5 : My development goals

- Review your personal development goal(s), and consider ...
 - ✓ Is it true for you?
 - ✓ Is there significant room for improvement?
 - ✓ Does it implicate you; does it put you on the hook to make the change
 - ✓ Is it significantly related to your career, work and leadership vision?
 - ✓ Is it really important to you (at least a 4 on a scale of 5)

Expressing your leadership ...

- Who do you aspire to be as a leader?
- What's your style and how will this help you?
- What development goal(s) do you want to focus on this year?
- What is the first step you are going to take (tomorrow) to work on this goal?

Peer Coaching

Partner speaks

Coach listens
~ 5 minutes

Partner states goal, describes current reality

Coach listens intensely and takes notes

- Look for behavior patterns that your partner may not see
- Note skills/approaches and their effectiveness

Coach asks questions

Partner responds

~ 5 minutes

Coach asks clarifying questions

Partner answer fully, without judgment

- Coach uses probing questions to clarify and dig deeper (open ended questions work best)
- Do not provide feedback yet

Coach provides feedback

Partner listens
~ 5 minutes

Coach provides insight and feedback

- Be objective, avoid criticism, judgment, blame
- Help partner see a clearer picture, both positive and negative
- Help uncover additional options for change

Intersession Work

- Revisit and rework your vision
- Ask for feedback
- Update your SWOT
- Compare personal and organizational vision
- Revisit and revise your goal(s)
 - With your accountability partner, using the peer coaching format

Good luck and enjoy the process!
