

Jodi Detjen

About Jodi Detjen

Jodi is an accomplished organizational consultant and educator with a foundation in operational change management. Her mission is to help realize gender equity in the workplace as soon as possible. In addition to being Co-Founder and Managing Partner of Orange Grove Consulting, Jodi is Clinical Professor of Management and Academic MBA Program Director at Suffolk University, Boston, MA. She has worked in organizational development for over 25 of years transforming the way people work at small and large companies. Jodi designs top-tier women's leadership training for clients that include Skillsoft and Linkage. She has consulted and run workshops for clients that include Accenture, Microsoft Partners, Dimension Data and Oracle. She is a highly sought after speaker and writer for organizations that include Bright Horizons, Society of Women Engineers, Harvard University, Smith College, Lean In and Brandon Hall Group. She is co-author of the book, The Orange Line: A Woman's Guide to Integrating Career, Family, and Life.

Jodi earned her B.Sc. in Management Science from Virginia Tech and her MA in International Development Policy from Duke University. She is an active member of a many women's advocacy organizations among them, the Geena Davis Women in Media and the Boston Club and proudly sits on the board of Westorg.org, an organization that advances women in science and technology.

About Orange Grove Consulting

Orange Grove Consulting specializes in research-based women's leadership training and organizational change that improves recruitment, retention and promotion of women across an organization. We address limiting aspects of the current talent pipeline with a focus on addressing the unconscious biases women have about themselves. Our end goal is to create more innovative and productive workplaces.